President Obama and staff at the Office of Management & Budget,

The World Health Organization projects that a billion people will die this century from smoking-related illness. In the United States alone, more people die each year from smoking than AIDS, alcohol, illegal drugs, murders, suicides, and car accidents combined.

Smoking is deadly.

Unfortunately, so are poor regulations.

Throughout history, powerful people have used fear mongering and regulations to further their own interests and moral agendas. For nearly 50 years, condoms were illegal in our country. A black market formed. People were even arrested.

It was not until World War I that we fully realized how foolish these anti-condom regulations were. Instead of allowing condoms, the US government issued ineffective prophylactic soap. By the end of the war, the US military had diagnosed nearly 400,000 cases of syphilis and gonorrhea.

Here today, I watch history repeating itself.

It's no secret that many of our current troops and nearly 40 million Americans are facing a deadly addiction to cigarette smoking. 70% of them want to quit, half try each year. Only 6% of them succeed. Telling people to quit smoking is nearly as effective as telling people to quit having sex. We must help them.

Much like the prophylactic soap from WWI, it is clear that recommended quitting methods such as nicotine gums, patches, and prescription pharmaceuticals are ineffective. On top of that, FDA approved drugs even list depressed mood and suicidal behavior as side effects. People are killing themselves.

In the meantime, a new industry comprised of mostly small independent business owners has developed to help smokers quit cigarettes by switching from lighting tobacco on fire to vaporizing a nicotine solution using methods similar to fog machines and FDA-approved nicotine inhalers. Many consider the invention an important milestone in medical history and millions of users credit vaping with saving their life. Smoking among young people is now at a record low.

After years with no decline in smoking prevalence, things are finally headed in the right direction.

The proposed deeming regulations by the FDA would ban 99% of these vaping products and hand the remainder of the market share to big tobacco companies who would prefer to sell cigarettes. Smokers need more options to quit, not fewer. The expected harm caused by these regulations is so large, our production company decided to make a film about it.

Our investigation has found alarming and concrete evidence of:

- Significant illegal activities by the CDC in funding lobbying
- Significant conflicts of interest among FDA leadership
- Significant conflicts of interest among leading health charities such as American Cancer Society, American Lung Association, and American Heart Association
- · Pharmaceutical companies aggressively lobbying and funding organizations to fight against vaping

Cigarette taxes and smoking related medical spending are tremendous sources of funding for many powerful industries and trusted health brands. Without smoking, they will face significant funding shortages.

To learn more about the technology and health effects of vaping, we interviewed the former president of the World Medical Association, former executive director at the World Health Organization, and many more doctors, scientists, and health experts. We have yet to find one expert in the field that doesn't believe vaping is significantly safer than smoking. Most say that demonizing and over-regulating vaping products will lead people back to smoking.

The United Kingdom government's Public Health England committee recently declared that "E-cigarettes are significantly less harmful to health than tobacco and have the potential to help smokers quit smoking."

Key findings of the review include:

- the current best estimate is that e-cigarettes are around 95% less harmful than smoking
- nearly half the population (44.8%) don't realize e-cigarettes are much less harmful than smoking
- there is no evidence so far that e-cigarettes are acting as a route into smoking for children or non-smokers

Rather than bowing to fear mongering and launching into regulations before there's scientific evidence to support them, we urge caution and a measured approach. There's no credible evidence that vaping is causing any harm to anyone, but there's millions of people saying that it's helped them quit smoking.

Nobody is saying that vaping is perfect. Just like condoms, there are moral and risk issues still being debated. Just like condoms, a common sense approach will save lives.

It's time to return the deeming regulations to the FDA and begin a collaborative approach to rulemaking that doesn't condemn millions of people to addiction and death.

Respectfully submitted,

Aaron Biebert

Critiques of the Analysis Prepared by the FDA

- Due diligence on economic impact to small business was not a deep enough dive
- As written the deeming regulations are a de facto ban on 99% of existing small vapor businesses
 - No vapor products on the market in February 2007
 - Substantial equivalence is not an option for vapor products
 - PMTA as defined is beyond reach for most, if not all vapor businesses

Critiques of the Analysis Prepared by the FDA

Excerpt from SFATA National presentation

The Small Business Administration (SBA), in comments sent to the FDA, suggested that the Regulatory Flexibility Analysis performed by that agency lacked essential information required under the Regulatory Flexibility

- SBA suggested that the FDA failed to discuss the quantitative or qualitative costs of the proposed rule on many potentially affected small entities.
- It also did not adequately consider or explain significant alternatives which accomplish the stated FDA objectives while minimizing the significant economic impact of the proposal on small entities.
- Advocacy believes that the IRFA contained in the proposed rule is deficient, and for this reason, the FDA should republish a Supplemental IRFA for additional public comment before proceeding with this rulemaking.
- Advocacy is concerned that because the proposed rule's IRFA is deficient, the public has not been adequately informed about the possible impact of the proposal on small entities and whether there are less burdensome significant alternatives to the proposed rule that would meet the FDA's objectives.
- SBA commented that it found the Substantial Equivalent requirement laid out in the act to be burdensome for small businesses.
 - businesses in industries for newly covered products would not be able to obtain marketing orders as many of these industries, such as e-cigarettes, were not in existence as of the Grandfather Date, or they rely on proprietary technologies.
- Small businesses confided to Advocacy that the costs associated with the proposal's premarket submission requirements could force many of them to exit the market and cease operating

Underpinning evidence for the estimate that e-cigarette use is around 95% safer than smoking: authors' note

The estimate that e-cigarette use is around 95% safer than smoking is based on the facts that:

- the constituents of cigarette smoke that harm health including carcinogens –
 are either absent in e-cigarette vapour or, if present, they are mostly at levels
 much below 5% of smoking doses (mostly below 1% and far below safety limits for occupational exposure)
- the main chemicals present in e-cigarettes only have not been associated with any serious risk

Vaping has changed my life!

I starting vaping in January 2014 after smoking for 38 years. When I started vaping, I could not breathe from smoking for so long. I could not take the stairs at my work – not even one flight.

Our work has us do a health risk assessment every year since 2009 and my health continues to get better with age as reflected in my assessments. The only thing I have changed in my life is that I quit smoking and started vaping.

I can now take the stairs to the floor I work on (3rd) floor and I can walk without hesitation. Vaping has given me back my life.

I can enjoy my grandkids and take them to the park down the street or to a theme park or swimming and join in on the fun. I am not exhausted when the day is over and best of all I can BREATHE!

Vaping has affected not only my life but also my mother's life. She is 72 and started vaping after 50 years of smoking, she feels better, and the best part is, we are still ALIVE to enjoy each other and grandkids.

I am a 48 year old woman who was a 2 pack a day smoker for 30 years. Since I have switched to a personal vaporizer, I have not had a traditional tobacco cigarette since September 1, 2013. I tried several methods to quit smoking. The patch made be break out in a rash and the gum hurt my teeth. I did fairly well on the Chantix, but the mood swings and nightmares were horrible and the prescription was expensive and NOT covered by my insurance. As soon as I finished the recommended course of treatment, I ended up smoking again.

A friend introduced me to the personal vaporizer and at first, I still smoked as well as using the personal vaporizer. Then I discovered a flavor that I really liked (cinnamon fireball) and found that, having several flavor choices, I didn't crave a tobacco cigarette. The flavor choices have significantly helped me give up tobacco for good. I started out at 24mg and am now down to 12mg, with a goal of eliminating the nicotine altogether, at some point.

A few things I have noticed, since I switched to a personal vaporizer:

- I have not had bronchitis once. I used to get it about every four months or so.
- I don't have a cough any longer.
- I can climb stairs and walk a good distance without feeling short of breath.
- My sense of taste has returned so I don't use salt on my food any more.
- My last physical exam was better than it has been in years.

If the proposed restrictions were to be put in place, and the products that I use were to disappear from the marketplace, it would be very easy to go back to smoking tobacco cigarettes.

As a U.S. Citizen and consumer, I strongly urge you to NOT

| Without the ability to vape flavored ejuice, my husband and i wouldnt have successfully quit the 50 year between us smoking habit. My aunt and 2 cousins are now cigarette free because of vapor products, and ilke to believe that it saved the lives and future time spent together with my loved ones. Nothing out there on the market has ever been a reliable method to quit smoking for any of us, and now we are all down to 3 mg of nicotine, and still working our way down to that Oneg goal. We give each other flavor suggestions and share juice whenever one of us has a craving for the nasty cigarettes, and the thought of having to vape tobaccof flavorings, it might make me want to just switch back to smokes, something i haven't doine in over a year because of vapor products. Vaping has become a support group for ex smokers, a community for meeting great people, and in many ways, it feels like a family. I know it has saved me from a lifetime of being addictied to nicotine, and for that I am forever grateful to vapor products. It has converted me from smoking combustable tobacco products to now being a non it smoking combustable tobacco products to now being a non | Vaping has saved my life. Without vape, I wouldn't have been able to quit smoking cigarettes. My health have improved dramatically. I don't have to worry anymore about random horrible chest problems I used to have. I feel like my immune system is much better now. My teeth look much better and instead of smelling like stake poptcom, now I smell much. Their are so many more reasons why I love and support vaping 100%. | life saver, I smoked for 30 years. I breathe bbetter now, I'm more on the hobby side of vaping since I went from 30 nic to quit smoking to a .03 | Vaping means I will get to live. Vaping means I can breath without wheezing. Vaping means my house doesn't stink, nor my clothes, nor my car. Vaping means I can save towards my daughtens college education. Vaping has saved my life. #ivote | Everything! It got me off the cigarettes that I was smoking 3 packs a day. I could feel the toll that smoking was taking on my body when I tried to do simple task. I knew it was time to do something but you feel stuck when you're addicted to tabbacco. When I first wanted to stop I shought I'd need a tabbacco favor or menthing los I tried both only to put the ecig down and start smoking again. Once got a flavor that I liked it made all the difference, I actually enjoyed vaping! I went down from 3 to 2 to 1 then slowly but surely I just was able to stop all together. I feel clear again and am getting back my stamina. It would be a shame if the fida took such an effective tool to help people stop smoking away from us. This is a free country we should be able to do what we want especially when it comes to setting | healthier A much healthier way to enlove a smokine habitit not to mention it smalls a whole lot hatter | Informmentation was to cause a minoring laterature to manage a minoring and dipping from vaping. OMB Meeting RIN 0910-AG38 12-10-2015 3:30pm

Speaking on behalf of Lucky Ruckus & the Vapor Industry: Frank Blankenship – LRVS Co-Owner Aaron Biebert-A Billion Lives

Artisan CLL, LLC

Dba Lucky Ruckus Vape Shop

- LRVS is a family owned and operated small business operating since 2012 out of Amarillo. Texas
- LRVS is a responsible retailer and Eliquid manufacturer
 - We are founding members of SFATA Texas. The Texas chapter of the Smoke Free Alternative Trade Association.
 - Since day 1 we have utilized age verification at retail B&M POS
 - We actively participate in SFATA "Age to Vape"
 - We worked closely with the 2015 Texas legislature to institute a law banning sale to minors
 - We are active members of the Amarillo and Lubbock Texas Chamber of Commerce
 - We support reasonable regulation which includes product labeling standards, consistent and documented manufacturing processes, age restriction
 - We do not support over regulation which would limit access to vapor products by responsible adults.
- LRVS is the result of the owners successful transition from tobacco to vaping
 - Frank Blankenship was a 29+ year smoker who completely stopped smoking and transitioned to vaping on 12-6-2012
 - Cory Blankenship was a tobacco cigarette user who stopped smoking completely and transitioned to vaping on 6-5-2013
 - Since opening we have a customer database in excess of 7000 who have used vapor products to minimize or eliminate tobacco use
- We operate two retail locations, a website, and an Eliquid manufacturing facility providing vape hardware and E-liquid
 - Lubbock, Texas retail location opened September 2015
 - Our product offerings total ~2000 sku's
 - Hardware is sourced primarily from stateside distributors wherever possible.
 - E-liquid is manufactured in our own manufacturing facility that is completely separate from our retail locations
 - Documented manufacturing process are in place in our facility
 - Warning labels on all product
 - CRC certified caps on all product
 - Age verification in place at all POS
 - o All E-liquid Materials and packaging is sourced stateside

Critiques of the Analysis Prepared by the FDA

- Due diligence on economic impact to small business was not a deep enough dive
- As written the deeming regulations are a de facto ban on 99% of existing small vapor businesses
 - No vapor products on the market in February 2007
 - Substantial equivalence is not an option for vapor products
 - PMTA as defined is beyond reach for most, if not all vapor businesses

Critiques of the Analysis Prepared by the FDA

Excerpt from SFATA National presentation

The Small Business Administration (SBA), in comments sent to the FDA, suggested that the Regulatory Flexibility Analysis performed by that agency lacked essential information required under the Regulatory Flexibility

- SBA suggested that the FDA failed to discuss the quantitative or qualitative costs of the proposed rule on many potentially affected small entities.
- It also did not adequately consider or explain significant alternatives which accomplish the stated FDA objectives while minimizing the significant economic impact of the proposal on small entities.
- Advocacy believes that the IRFA contained in the proposed rule is deficient, and for this reason, the FDA should republish a Supplemental IRFA for additional public comment before proceeding with this rulemaking.
- Advocacy is concerned that because the proposed rule's IRFA
 is deficient, the public has not been adequately informed about
 the possible impact of the proposal on small entities and whether there are less burdensome significant alternatives to the proposed rule that would meet the FDA's objectives.
- SBA commented that it found the Substantial Equivalent requirement laid out in the act to be burdensome for small businesses.
 - businesses in industries for newly covered products would not be able to obtain marketing orders as many of these industries, such as e-cigarettes, were not in existence as of the Grandfather Date, or they rely on proprietary technologies.
- Small businesses confided to Advocacy that the costs associated with the proposal's premarket submission requirements could force many of them to exit the market and cease operating

46.6M or About 1 in 5 adults smoke.

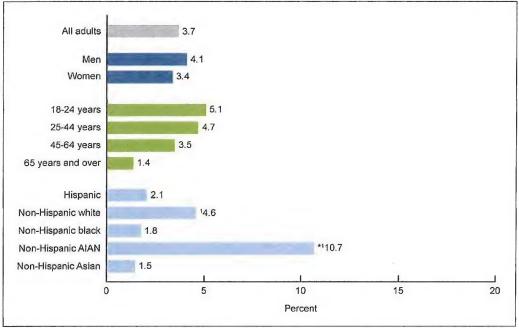

40% or 4 out of 10 nonsmokers (88 million people) are exposed to secondhand smoke.

54% or More than 1 out of 2 kids(aged 3–11 years) are exposed to secondhand smoke.

About 3.7% (9m) adults currently use e-cigarettes every day or some days,

Current use of e-cigarettes was about the same for men and women (Figure 2).

Removing CO from tobacco products is viewed positively by public health.

Carbon monoxide is the primary chemical in cigarette smoke. Vapor has no carbon monoxide, because CO is a combustion byproduct.

Underpinning evidence for the estimate that e-cigarette use is around 95% safer than smoking: authors' note

The estimate that e-cigarette use is around 95% safer than smoking is based on the facts that:

- the constituents of cigarette smoke that harm health including carcinogens –
 are either absent in e-cigarette vapour or, if present, they are mostly at levels
 much below 5% of smoking doses (mostly below 1% and far below safety limits
 for occupational exposure)
- the main chemicals present in e-cigarettes only have not been associated with any serious risk

Impact to Public Health

To regulate vapor products with 2.4% or less nicotine as a tobacco product is the equivalent of adding a tablespoon of 2011 Dow's Vintage Port, from Portugal to a glass of Boones Farm and labeling it Grand Vin.

Requests of the FDA

- Consider the report from Public Health England indicating vapor products are least 95% less harmful.
- Recognize that vapor products are not as harmful as cigarettes and utilize enforcement discretion to not regulate them as such.
- Complete further due diligence on impact of the rule to small business.
- At a minimum alter the grandfather date to date rule becomes effective.
 - Maintain awareness that altering the grandfather date will stifle innovation and new product development for this groundbreaking technology.

Subject: for Vaping - Economic Data

Vaping has changed my life!

I starting vaping in January 2014 after smoking for 38 years. When I started vaping, I could not breathe from smoking for so long. I could not take the stairs at my work – not even one flight.

Our work has us do a health risk assessment every year since 2009 and my health continues to get better with age as reflected in my assessments. The only thing I have changed in my life is that I quit smoking and started vaping.

I can now take the stairs to the floor I work on (3rd) floor and I can walk without hesitation. Vaping has given me back my life.

I can enjoy my grandkids and take them to the park down the street or to a theme park or swimming and join in on the fun. I am not exhausted when the day is over and best of all I can BREATHE!

Vaping has affected not only my life but also my mother's life. She is 72 and started vaping after 50 years of smoking, she feels better, and the best part is, we are still ALIVE to enjoy each other and grandkids.

I am a 48 year old woman who was a 2 pack a day smoker for 30 years. Since I have switched to a personal vaporizer, I have not had a traditional tobacco cigarette since September 1, 2013. I tried several methods to quit smoking. The patch made be break out in a rash and the gum hurt my teeth. I did fairly well on the Chantix, but the mood swings and nightmares were horrible and the prescription was expensive and NOT covered by my insurance. As soon as I finished the recommended course of treatment, I ended up smoking again.

A friend introduced me to the personal vaporizer and at first, I still smoked as well as using the personal vaporizer. Then I discovered a flavor that I really liked (cinnamon fireball) and found that, having several flavor choices, I didn't crave a tobacco cigarette. The flavor choices have significantly helped me give up tobacco for good. I started out at 24mg and am now down to 12mg, with a goal of eliminating the nicotine altogether, at some point.

A few things I have noticed, since I switched to a personal vaporizer:

- I have not had bronchitis once. I used to get it about every four months or so.
- I don't have a cough any longer.
- I can climb stairs and walk a good distance without feeling short of breath.
- My sense of taste has returned so I don't use salt on my food any more.
- My last physical exam was better than it has been in years.

If the proposed restrictions were to be put in place, and the products that I use were to disappear from the marketplace, it would be very easy to go back to smoking tobacco cigarettes.

As a U.S. Citizen and consumer, I strongly urge you to NOT

| Without the ability to vape flavored ejuice, my husband and i wouldnt have successfully quit the 50/year between us smoking habit. My auth and 2 cousins are now digarette free because of vapor products, and i like to believe that it saved the lives and future inne spert together with my loved ones. Nothing out there on the market has ever been a reliable method to quit smoking for any of us, and now we are all down to 3mg of nicotine, and still working our way down to that 0 mg goal. We give each other flavor suggestions and share juick whenever one of us has a carving for the nasty cigarettes, and the thought of having to vape tobacco flavorings makes me sick to my stomach. I actually believe that if I had to vape tobacco flavorings, it might make me want to just switch back to smokes, something it when't done in over a year because of vapor products. Vaping has become a support group for ex smokers, a community for meeting great people, and in many ways, it feels like a femily. | valuing to me means may have the opportunity to live longer because into longer have an addition to cigarettes which I know was Killin me. it really is a life saver and should be looked at that way. I have personally seen the change it has done in others life as well. The ONLY to gain my Freedom from Deadly Tobacco Cigarettes, NOTHING else work Mill Tho Er the change is the control of the | MULIPLE times tried ALL approved Quit methods, (Patches, Gum, Inhalors Chantis, Quit Lines, counseling ONLY Vaping got BOTH my Wife & Loff cigarettes for GOOD, 2 yrs in March 2016 Vaping saved my life! Freedom from tobacco | The only way I could have quit smoking. And I did quit 4 years ago. Also an unfortunate education in just how corrupt and bigoted the public health organizations are. It means that I never have to smoke cigarettes again. Vaping saved my life. Literally life, after trying and repeatedly failing with traditional approved methods I stumbled onto Vaping nearly 3 years ago. I have never smoked another cigarette since. To over-regulate would be a tragic wasted opportunity for millions of smokers who have yet to transition away. | transition away. It is the only thing that stopped me from smoking, therefore to me it is a life saver | Vaping, as a lifestyle choice is surprisingly freeing. I can pick and choose what I want from it and when I want it. I started vaping as an alternative to smoking, I really had no idea what to expect from it, nor what would actually gain from it. I hadrit planned on stopping smoking, but when I realised the sensations were the same, and the variability in the devices and favours could be tailored to me it was effectively a "no-brainer" to switch completely. I've also been blessed with meeting some truly interesting and fabulous like-minded characters in the community, something that, as a smoker wouldn't be, and hadr't been possible. Sure, I could got a pub orcibla and migle with the smokers outside if they decided to go out a tail), but there isn't a sense of community or fellowship in that. It felt like a gathering of the damned even though I, and those with me, enjoyed smoking. With vaping, everyone of them all share a commonality. They all seem to be kind and generous folks (there's always going to be outliers), they all enjoy vaping and the socialised aspects that come with it. The variety of shows, meets and events that cone with its and smoket of shows, meets and events that as a smoker! | | vaping has improved my life i am completely tobacco free and feel much better for it Freedom from smoking | Vaping is freedom! It is the only way i was able to quit smoking for good. It saves lives. Varina has saved my life. Shortly after quitting, I could feel my lungs open up and completing | laps in the pool was so much easier when you don't have to come up for air every five seconds. A happier healthier longer life. It helps me quit cumpustable tobacco once and for all Having had the option to vape saved my life. It has changed the my life for the good! I cheathe smell and taste soooo much better! | not to mention mat and by season indicate tallower against and tallower indicate and tallower indicate make | getting my nic hit without all the other nasty chemicals | It means being health for my kids. | Its given me a hobby, an outlet to find new friends, and improved my health | vaping is the way I stopped smoking. It became a hobby after a neiping product. It saved my life. It really did. | the ability to overcome a legal substance that had me in a chokehold literally | | #vapingsavedmylife | Lite! Vaping has saved my life. | Lowe my life to vaping. Hospitalized yearly with pneumonia when I smoked, I would get | ascinitation biolicinitis every time i caugint a colo. Illinaiers used dally, i am proud to say i nave | Vaping means a way to live away from traditional tobacco cigarettes | | Health and happiness | It got my off cigarettes. I don't see anything more important than that. | it means i will never nave to smoke a nasty cigatette agant, no more smelling like an asn tray. No more bad breath. I can taste my food better. | It saved my life from smoking, now its also helping me lose weight thanks to many sweetflavors that help with a sweettooth. Its helped me get to a much healthier lifestyle so I | can enjoy playing in the yard with my 2 kids without being tired or winded. | The freedom to choose a healthy alternative | It means I show longer have to smoke Vaping to me means a way out, a way out from under 'Bio Tobacco'. I am free now, my breathing and overall health has increased drastically. Also now when I go to the Dr they are baffled that I ever smoked at all judging by the condition of my respiratory system. Vaping for me also mean financial security, as myself and wife have opened our first vape shop in Starkville, Ms. This is how I support my family, also while making a positive impact on my. | local community, and getting folks off of egarettes is positively affecting public health as well. | Vaping saved not only me, but my mother and step father. My mom had deep coughs, we were all concerned about emphysems, but she used vaping as a cessation and she feels amazing, with no more coughing fits at all. I wake up feeling great now, I have more energy and I don't get sick anymore. I vape fruit and candy flavors, and I'm scared if it's taken away, or if they change the grandfather date to 2007, I'll go back to smoking and I really don't want to. | It means a healthy way to stop my addiction to tobacco. More energy to spend time with my family and just an all around better life with the risk or worries about dieing from all those | bullsnit chemicals in ugarettes Helped save my life | It means everything to me. it let's me have an option other then prescription medication or gum.and patches to not smoke, it has made my life better in the fact I can breath now. My | taste buds have changed so much in the last two years. I don't constantly smell like combustible tobacco. | its means everything;it has literally changed my life; can sleep now,before i had severe sleep | apnea, I can run around and am not short of breath. | It is a great alternative to smoking that will eventually lead to a smoke free world. | Opportunity for better health and longer life | has improved quality of invite, reactor, reactorismps and commenter. A healthier lifestyle for myself and my family! | freedom, | To me, vaping is a smoking alternative turned hobby. I've met a lot of my close friends | through Vaping amongst other partnerships. Hoalthy lifestyle | I feel like vaping saved my life. | Not smoking | Everything, Period, | days work and i enjoy this. It also has given me a amazing hobby as i am very much into | building . Takes my mind off life sucking. | vaping means the world to me, without it I would surely die of cancer from smoking. I wasn't able to breathe, I was always on edge if I wasn't smoking, I HAD to have it. now my health has improved 30 fold. also, if all they had was tobacco flavors, it would want me to smoke again, because I would always taste it, that's good to get you of smoking but not to keep you from smoking. that's like giving a recovering alcoholic a non alcoholic beer a year later, it's good to use it ro quit, but a year later it would just make you want "the real" thing, so what does vaping mean to me? It means the world to me, because it gave the world back to me my family, my children, my health, my children's health from not being around tobacco12-02 04: | a better life, no offensive smell. the capability to chase my child and play more with him outside. | Vaping means everything to me. It has changed my life in multiple ways, not only do I feel better and have a healthlier lifestyle, I also have a good job because of it, it something were to happen to the industry, we would be taking a step back in options to help people get off cigarettes, and taking, thousands of jobs away from our economy. vaping is a important part of my life the commulity is a amazing friendly community my doctor says my lungs sound amazing community my doctor says my lungs sound amazing comments. | taste better now | | more of a lifetime with my daughter and family. | vaping is a better alternative to cigs | Vaping has been quite literally a lite saver. It not only has gotten me off of tabacco completely but has allowed me to breathe easier when active. Additionally I am not as dependant on nicotine as I once was. I used to have to have a cigarette break in order to cope with the stress of my job but now I can go an entire 10 hour day without having to use | nicotine as a crutch. vaping saved me from a life of tobacco I smell getter, I feel better, and notice a major | difference in my health being free from combustible cigarettes. EVERYTHING | Vaping has had a huge impact on my life. I am now healthier then I ever have been. I'Ve | learned a lot about electronics and made a lot of connections through vaping. Vapin gmeans evertyfning to me. It literally has saved my life. The freedom to enloy the "feel" of smokine without the nastiness. |

The Small Business Administration (SBA), in comments sent to the FDA, suggested that the Regulatory Flexibility Analysis performed by that agency lacked essential information required under the Regulatory Flexibility Act. 20 In particular, the SBA suggested that the FDA failed to discuss the quantitative or qualitative costs of the proposed rule on many potentially affected small entities. It also did not adequately consider or explain significant alternatives which accomplish the stated FDA objectives while minimizing the significant economic impact of the proposal on small entities. According to the SBA, Because it does not adequately describe the impacts on all types of newly covered small entities and because it does not adequately explain significant alternatives that might reduce those impacts, Advocacy believes that the IRFA contained in the proposed rule is deficient, and for this reason, the FDA should republish a Supplemental IRFA for additional public comment before proceeding with this rulemaking. Under the RFA, an IRFA must contain:

(1) a description of the reasons why the regulatory action is being taken; (2) the objectives and legal basis for the proposed regulation; (3) a description and estimated number of regulated small entities; (4) a description and estimate of compliance requirements, including any differential for different categories of small entities; (5) identification of duplication, overlap, and conflict with other rules and regulations; and (6) a description of significant alternatives to the rule.

Advocacy is concerned that because the proposed rule's IRFA is deficient, the public has not been adequately informed about the possible impact of the proposal on small entities and whether there are less burdensome significant alternatives to the proposed rule that would meet the FDA's objectives.

Critiques of the Analysis Prepared by the FDA

In particular, the SBA commented that it found the Substantial Equivalent requirement laid out in the act to be burdensome for small businesses, stating, Because businesses in industries for newly covered products would not be able to obtain marketing orders as many of these industries, such as e-cigarettes, were not in existence as of the Grandfather Date, or they rely on proprietary technologies. Small businesses have even confided to Advocacy that the costs associated with the proposal's premarket submission requirements could force many of them to exit the market and cease operating. It adds that the IRFA does not fully consider alternatives which accomplish the stated FDA objectives and which minimize the significant economic impact of the proposal on small entities and encourages the FDA to further consider alternatives that may be able to more greatly decrease the regulatory burden on small business while still allowing it to meet its regulatory goals.

It also suggested that the FDA should also provide additional data and analysis to illustrate why the benefits of deeming some of these products outweigh the substantial costs.

Underpinning evidence for the estimate that e-cigarette use is around 95% safer than smoking: authors' note

The estimate that e-cigarette use is around 95% safer than smoking is based on the facts that:

- the constituents of cigarette smoke that harm health including carcinogens –
 are either absent in e-cigarette vapour or, if present, they are mostly at levels
 much below 5% of smoking doses (mostly below 1% and far below safety limits
 for occupational exposure)
- the main chemicals present in e-cigarettes only have not been associated with any serious risk

Our reviewⁱ aimed to assess whether studies that have recently been widely reported as raising new alarming concerns on the risks of e-cigarettes changed the conclusions of the previous independent review (Britton and Bogdanovica, 2014) and other reassuring reviews.

We concluded that these new studies do not in fact demonstrate substantial new risks and that the previous estimate by an international expert panel (Nutt et al, 2014) endorsed in an expert review (West et al, 2014) that e-cigarette use is around 95% safer than smoking, remains valid as the current best estimate based on the peer-reviewed literature.

Some flavourings and constituents in e-cigarettes may pose risks over the long term. We consider the 5% residual risk to be a cautious estimate allowing for this uncertainty.

Ongoing monitoring is needed to ensure that if any new risks emerge, recommendations to smokers and regulatory requirements are revised accordingly.

On current evidence, there is no doubt that smokers who switch to vaping reduce the risks to their health dramatically.

E-cigarettes: a new foundation for evidence-based policy and practice

Introduction

Smoking rates in England are in long-term decline. However, tobacco use remains one of the country's major public health challenges with the harm increasingly concentrated in more disadvantaged communities. Over recent years, e-cigarettes have risen in popularity to become the number one quitting aid used by smokers. This consumer-led phenomenon has attracted considerable controversy within public health and beyond, with the unfortunate consequence of confusion among the general public about the relative risks of nicotine, e-cigarettes and smoked tobacco.

Public Health England (PHE) has a key role in mobilising the evidence base to protect public health and reduce inequalities. Our response to the uncertainty and controversy associated with e-cigarettes has been to establish a sound evidence base. In our first year we commissioned independent evidence reviews from leading UK researchers Professor John Britton² and Professor Linda Bauld.³ These were published in May 2014 to coincide with our national symposium on e-cigarettes and tobacco harm reduction.

Together with Cancer Research UK we have set up the UK Electronic Cigarette Research Forum to discuss new and emerging research, develop knowledge and understanding, enhance collaboration among researchers interested in this topic, and inform policy and practice.

This latest comprehensive review of the up-to-date evidence on e-cigarettes, commissioned from Professor Ann McNeill and Professor Peter Hajek, synthesises what is now a substantial international peer-reviewed evidence base on e-cigarettes. It provides a firm foundation for policy development and public health practice in the context of new regulations for e-cigarettes to be introduced in the UK from May 2016 under the revised EU Tobacco Products Directive (currently under consultation).

Main findings of the evidence review

The report details the steady increase in the use of e-cigarettes in England over recent years (fig 1). This increase has taken place in the context of continued long-term declines in smoking prevalence among adults (fig 2) and youth (fig 3).

E-cigarettes: a new foundation for evidence-based policy and practice

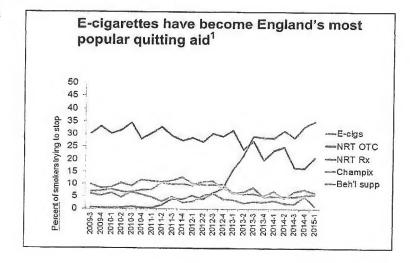

Figure 3

The authors find that among adults and youth, regular use of e-cigarettes is found almost exclusively among those who have already smoked. The highest rates of e-cigarette use are found among adult smokers. E-cigarettes have rapidly become the most widely used quitting aid in England (fig 4).

Safety and the perception of risks

It is important that the public be provided with balanced information on the risks of ecigarettes, so that smokers understand the potential benefits of switching and so non-smokers understand the risks that taking up e-cigarettes might entail:

- when used as intended, e-cigarettes pose no risk of nicotine poisoning to users, but e-liquids should be in 'childproof' packaging. The accuracy of nicotine content labelling currently raises no major concerns
- the conclusion of Professor John Britton's 2014 review for PHE, that while vaping may not be 100% safe, most of the chemicals causing smoking-related disease are absent and the chemicals present pose limited danger, remains valid. The current best estimate is that e-cigarette use is around 95% less harmful to health than smoking
- e-cigarettes release negligible levels of nicotine into ambient air with no identified health risks to bystanders
- over the last year, there has been an overall shift among adults and youth towards the inaccurate perception of e-cigarettes as at least as harmful as cigarettes

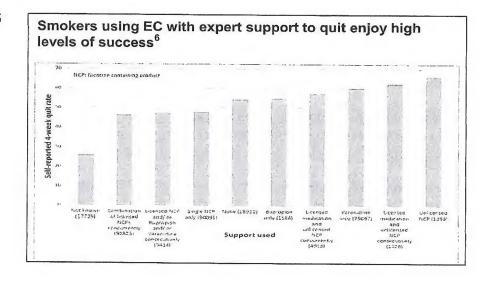

Implications of the evidence for policy and practice

Based on the findings of the evidence review PHE also advises that:

- e-cigarettes have the potential to help smokers quit smoking, and the evidence indicates they carry a fraction of the risk of smoking cigarettes but are not risk free
- e-cigarettes potentially offer a wide reach, low-cost intervention to reduce smoking in more deprived groups in society where smoking is elevated, and we want to see this potential fully realised
- there is an opportunity for e-cigarettes to help tackle the high smoking rates among people with mental health problems, particularly in the context of creating smokefree mental health units
- the potential of e-cigarettes to help improve public health depends on the extent to which they can act as a route out of smoking for the country's eight million tobacco users, without providing a route into smoking for children and non-smokers. Appropriate and proportionate regulation is essential if this goal is to be achieved

E-cigarettes: a new foundation for evidence-based policy and practice

Recent studies support the Cochrane Review⁷ findings that e-cigarettes can be effective in helping people to quit smoking. In local stop smoking services across England the relatively small number of smokers who have combined e-cigarettes with expert support have had high rates of success (fig 5).

Under the current regulatory system individual e-cigarette products vary considerably in quality and specification. We also do not yet have data on their long-term safety. However, the current best estimate by experts is that e-cigarette use represents only a fraction of the risk of smoking (fig 6).

- hold a second national symposium on e-cigarettes and harm reduction in spring 2016 to present the latest evidence and discuss its implications for policy and practice
- provide the public with clear and accurate information on the relative harm of nicotine, e-cigarettes and smoked tobacco. Nearly half the population don't realise e-cigarettes are safer than smoking, and studies have shown that some smokers have avoided switching in the belief that e-cigarettes are too dangerous
- publish framework advice to support organisations in developing evidencebased policies on use of e-cigarettes in enclosed public places and workplaces. This follows an engagement exercise conducted with public health partners and the wider stakeholder community to discuss the evidence and invite their input on its implications
- commission the National Centre for Smoking Cessation and Training to provide training and support to stop smoking practitioners to improve their skills and confidence in advising clients on the use of e-cigarettes
- monitor tobacco industry involvement in the evolving e-cigarettes market and exercise continuing vigilance to ensure we meet our obligations under Article
 5.3 of the Framework Convention on Tobacco Control to protect public health policy from commercial and other vested interests of the tobacco industry

8 Biggest Electronic Cigarette Myths

There are many myths and misconceptions about electronic cigarettes. Let's separate fact from fiction.

Myth #1 - Electronic cigarettes are a threat to children/teens.

FALSE.

Where it comes from:

Legislators and anti-smoking groups assume that children will be drawn to the "electronic gadgets," the fruit/candy flavors and ease of access on the internet & mall kiosks.

Why it's a wrong:

First, they aren't easy to purchase on the internet. A credit card or bank account is required. So, unless the child steals a parent's credit card and then hides the card statement later on, the risk of being discovered is high. The majority of kiosk vendors have already implemented a policy of forbidding sales to minors. The opportunity for minors to purchase electronic cigarettes at those kiosks is no better than purchasing tobacco cigarettes at a gas station — probably less.

Second, the least expensive electronic cigarette starter kits run between $35 - $50 (plus shipping) online and $90 - $150 at mall kiosks. This price point is considerable for the average adult, let alone a child. Children would be more likely to spend that money on music, clothes or video games than an electronic cigarette — especially when they can easily get a $7 pack of cigarettes at the corner store or from friends. Electronic cigarettes also require the additional purchases of accessories and replacement parts. A single battery costs over $10. Heating elements, which require frequent replacement, cost over $8 each.

Third, anecdotal accounts indicate that children/teens view electronic cigarettes as a way for adults to quit smoking. They lack the "danger factor," which reduces appeal. Additionally, surveys of electronic cigarette owners show that the average consumer is overwhelmingly between 30-50 years old and a smoker¹, indicating that even young adults do not find them particularly appealing.

Myth #2 - Sweet flavors and flashy packaging are intended to specifically attract young people.

FALSE.

Where it comes from:

The assumption by critics that the slick advertisements and fruity flavors only appeal to children and their lack of knowledge of the target consumer and the intended purpose of the product.

Why it's wrong:

These products are not intended to be a treatment for nicotine addiction. They are intended to be a way for current smokers to "smoke" without the dangerous toxins and carcinogens. Retailers need to differentiate themselves from stop-smoking aids, to convince long-time smokers that the electronic cigarette is just as appealing as the tobacco cigarette they currently use.

Just as with marketing cars, televisions, cell phones, alcohol and other adult products, advertisers attempt to make the devices appeal to adults with a "coolness factor." Studies show that "smokers are more likely than the general population to be risk-taking, extroverted, defiant, and impulsive" - very similar to teen demographics - so the misconception is understandable, but misguided. Often overlooked by critics in these ads are the claims about the ability to "smoke anywhere" and have a safer/healthier option to smoking — a clear indication that they are targeting current smokers and smokers concerned about their health and not new/young smokers.

Regarding sweet flavors, the tobacco-flavored liquid does not have a pleasant taste for many smokers, as it is difficult to replicate the tobacco smoke taste. Adults, who make up the majority of electronic cigarette consumers, specifically requested alternative flavors that would work well with the liquid base — which were mostly sweeter fruit and candy flavors. About 50% of adult electronic cigarette owners polled (over the age of 26)¹ report that they primarily use these non-tobacco flavors and attribute them with the ability to keep them from returning to tobacco cigarettes. They also testify that the sweeter flavors make tobacco cigarettes taste particularly foul and further reduce their chances of returning to smoking cigarettes.

Myth #3 - Electronic Cigarettes all contain anti-freeze.

FALSE.

Where it comes from:

In 2009, the FDA released a press statement claiming that they tested electronic cigarettes and found diethylene glycol, an ingredient in anti freeze.²

Why it's wrong:

Independent labs extensively tested other electronic cigarettes and found no evidence of diethylene glycol, the toxic component of anti-freeze claimed to have been found in the brands the FDA tested.³

To further the confusion, electronic cigarette liquid is made of propylene glycol, an ingredient recognized as safe for human consumption by the FDA. While propylene glycol is sometimes used in anti-freeze, it is an additive intended to make it LESS harmful if accidentally swallowed.

The FDA tested just 18 cartridges, from only two companies. Out of those 18, just one tested positive for "about 1% diethylene glycol." Because so many other tests failed to find diethylene glycol, many experts conclude that the single sample may have been contaminated in some other way. By no means is it considered a standard ingredient in electronic cigarettes.

If electronic cigarettes did contain anti-freeze, there would be news reports about the thousands of electronic cigarette owners suffering from diethylene glycol poisoning and that is not the case. To date, after five years on the market worldwide, there have been no such reports.

Myth #4 - Electronic cigarettes are just as deadly and carcinogenic as tobacco cigarettes.

FALSE.

Where it comes from:

The FDA stated they found trace amounts of carcinogens in the nicotine cartridges and the media and health organizations used that statement to claim that electronic cigarettes are just as dangerous as tobacco cigarettes.²

Why it's wrong:

The FDA found trace amounts of "tobacco-specific nitrosamines" in the samples they tested, which can cause cancer under certain conditions and in sufficient amounts. The FDA allows certain levels of nitrosamines in consumable products. For example, tests show that other nicotine products, such as nicotine gum and nicotine patches, also contain the same tobacco-specific nitrosamines. The FDA did not release any information on the levels they found, however, the scientific definition of "trace amount" means amounts that are "detectable," but too small to even accurately measure.

An independent study by Dr. Murray Laugesen showed that, on average, the electronic cigarette contained 8.18ng nitrosamines per 1g of liquid. 8 ng in 1g = eight parts per trillion, an extremely tiny amount. By comparision, nicotine gum tested at 2ng, the nicotine patch tested at 8ng and Marlborough cigarettes tested at a staggering 11,190ng. That translates to electronic cigarettes containing 1,200 times LESS of these cancercausing nitrosamines than tobacco cigarettes and about the same as the FDA-approved nicotine patch.³

Myth #5 - Electronic cigarettes may be more addictive than regular cigarettes.

FALSE.

Where it comes from:

The infamous FDA testing showed that the levels of nicotine found in the cartridges varied from the advertised amount. Also, traces of nicotine were found in cartridges labeled as "no nicotine." Critics claim that means electronic cigarette users may be inhaling too much nicotine and causing them to become even more addicted.

Why it's wrong:

Two independent tests, the one by Dr. Laugesen and one by Dr. Thomas Eissenberg at Virginia Commonwealth University⁵, showed that electronic cigarette vapor does not deliver nicotine as "efficiently" as tobacco smoke and actually delivers nicotine in lower amounts than tobacco smoke.

Additionally, smokers tend to "self-regulate" their intake, as seen by how many cigarettes a smoker uses in a day. When the need for nicotine is met, the smoker – or in this case, the electronic cigarette user – no longer has a craving and ceases consumption. The fundamental behavior of nicotine addiction just doesn't support the claims of increasing the addiction in that manner.

Myth #6 - Second-hand "vapor" is a threat to bystanders.

FALSE.

Where it comes from:

Anti-smoking groups claim the toxins and carcinogens in electronic cigarettes (as well as addictive nicotine) can be accidentally inhaled by bystanders, just like second-hand tobacco smoke.

Why it's wrong:

As shown previously, electronic cigarettes already contain a tiny, barely detectable fraction of the carcinogens found in tobacco cigarettes. They also have been shown not to contain any of the toxins in the amounts found in tobacco cigarettes and that they deliver very little nicotine in the vapor. So, given that the vapor already proves little, if any, danger to the actual user, any danger to bystanders by the exhaled vapor would be negligible.

Additionally, tobacco cigarettes create "side stream smoke," which is the smoke that comes directly from the end of a lit cigarette and the smoke lingers in the air and travels a fair distance from the smoker.

Electronic cigarette vapor does not behave in the same manner as tobacco smoke. There is no vapor produced from the device, until the user activates it by inhaling, so no "side stream vapor" is created and the vapor dissipates very quickly. In the event that a bystander would pass through the vapor, since it doesn't contain the irritating toxins of tobacco smoke, it would likely be barely detectable beyond the faint scent of the flavor and only for a fleeting moment.

Myth #7 - Electronic cigarettes are a "gateway" to tobacco smoking.

FALSE.

Where is comes from:

Critics theorize that more non-smokers will be willing to try electronic cigarettes, due to their attractive flavors and attractive styling.

Why it's wrong:

People start smoking for different reasons. Studies show that children and young adults are more influenced by their peers, parents and stress levels than advertizing or flavors. The most popular tobacco flavors among youth are Camel, Marlborough and Newport – fruit and candy flavors only made up 2% of sales when they were legal – and rarely do people cite the flavor as a reason they started smoking.

Considering that the electronic cigarette is perceived as a health concession for adults, the high start-up costs and the easy accessibility of tobacco cigarettes, electronic cigarettes are unlikely to appeal to new smokers in significant numbers.

Additionally, given the fact that current users claim that electronic cigarettes make tobacco smoke taste considerably foul, in the unlikely event that a new smoker chooses electronic cigarettes over tobacco cigarettes, the chance they will find tobacco smoking appealing is even less.

Taking into account that electronic cigarettes have been shown to be both less toxic and less carcinogenic than tobacco cigarettes, if new smokers actually do choose electronic cigarettes over tobacco cigarettes, it would actually benefit their health and safety and that of those around them.

Myth #8 - If electronic cigarettes were no longer available for smokers, those smokers would simply quit smoking or use traditional stop-smoking aids.

FALSE.

Where it comes from:

Wishful thinking.

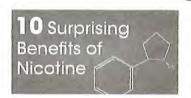

Why it's wrong:

According to the 998 poll participants, only 18% responded that they would use traditional NRTs or attempt to quit cold turkey. Nearly 20% said they would switch to other tobacco alternatives, such as snus or snuff; and a whopping 61% indicated they would most likely resume smoking cigarettes.¹

VAPING PRODUCTS

Texas House Public Health Committee Hearing Handout from Gary Wood

March 2016

Are vaping products the same as combustible tobacco products?

This is the fundamental, root question we must agree to answer before agreeing on legislative restrictions and oversight. If vaping and secondhand vapor are as harmful or virtually

the same as tobacco, treat them the same. If significantly different examine any proposal treating them the same.

"Dr. Paul Newhouse, the director of Vanderbilt University's Center for Cognitive Medicine, "It seems very safe even in nonsmokers. In our studies we find it actually reduces blood pressure chronically. And there were no addiction or withdrawal problems, and nobody started smoking cigarettes. The risk of addiction to nicotine alone is virtually nil."

WHAT'S IN E-LIQUID?

1. Vegetable Glycerin

Vegetable Glycerol (of glycerin, glyerine) is a clear, odorless figuid produced from plant oils, typically palm oil, soy, or coconut oil. Palm and coconut oils are natural triglyceride mixtures; each triglyceride is comosed of three fatty acids esterified with glycerin. Vegetable glycerin has a number of valuable application that include cosmetic products, foods, and as a replacement for alcohol in herbal and botanical tinctures.

3. Natural / Artifical Flavoring

All flavors meet FDA Generally Recognized as Safe standards. Natural flavors contain absolutely no artificial ingredients, additives, colors, or sweeteners. No natural sweeteners such as stevia. All chemicals used in artificial flavoring are FDA approved and tested. In many ways artificial flavors are considered safer to ingest or inhale, as each chemical used has been extensively tried and tested.

2. Proplyene Glycol

Propylene Glycol is the primary ingredient in the majority of E-Liquids and E-Cigarette cartridges on the market today. Most E-Liquid contains at least 80% and as much as 92% proplyene glycol. Propylene Glycol is approved by the FDA for use in various forms, These include items injected, applied topically, and inhaled. Products with Propylene Glycol can be found in various common items around your house.

4. Nicotine (Optional)

Nicotine is a naturally occurring liquid alkaloid. An alkaloid is an organic compound made out of carbon, hydrogen, nitrogen and sometimes oxygen. Both caffeine and nicotine are classified as secondary stimulants because they affect the sympathetic nervous system, more than the central nervous system.

Significant Differences

What you inhale you exhale

People cannot eat an apple and spit out an orange seed, that is either a magic trick or a myth. The fact e-liquid ingredients are what is inhaled the dangers in traditional cigarettes cannot then be exhaled. The atomizer, or delivery device, produces a safer, FDA GRAS ingredient based vapor with optional nicotine. This is the most that can be exhaled using a proper delivery system.

Vaping in smoking areas is dangerous

Treating vapers like smokers, sending them to smoking areas creates dangers to those attempting to quit going to smoking areas. Second-hand vape is proving safe and it is known to be unsafe in a smoking environment. Vaping products are fundamentally different and smoke free, tobacco free alternatives..

Texans Benefit from Vaping

Why? A recent survey of over 2400 vapers (people who vape) in Texas gave us some solid insights.

93% Smoke Free

65% stated tobacco no longer tastes good. In that same survey nearly 93% no longer use anything except a vaping product, they are cigarette and smoke free.

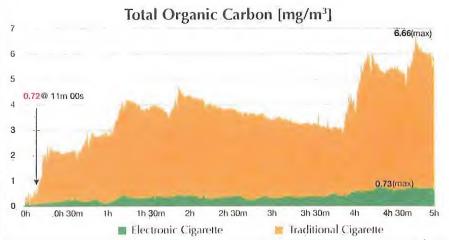

Long term smokers quit

69% of respondents had actually been smoking more than 10 years with 39% over 20 years, and now they're tobacco free.

Friends and Neighbors

Think of the benefits of not having to deal with the bad health issues or bury these long time smokers who also happen to be someone's family. These are parents, grandparents, PTA members, neighbors, and people breathing easier thanks to being a part of 5 smokers smoking for 5 hours in a controlled room followed by 65 hours of sanitizing and cleaning and then 5 vapers vaping for 5 hours in a controlled room.

Total Organic Carbon (TOC) starts at .72 for ambient air. 5 hours later only a .01 change takes place among vapers vaping, at .73. Smokers are significantly higher and more dangerous at 6.66.

Measured levels of known toxins in tobacco cigarettes show expected levels while vaping produced myth reducing findings of zero levels of traceable nicotine, acrolein, toluene, xylene, and other PAHs.

Dr. Newhouse believes, "nicotine by itself isn't very addictive at all... [it] seems to require assistance from other substances found in tobacco to get people hooked." In second-hand vape results are mounting nicotine is not a danger, while third-hand exposure still needs further study.

When you hear about restrictive regulations against vaping products being proposed in your area will you be the competent voice of reason?

Know your vaping community

People involved in vaping come from all walks of our daily lives. Evolving from smoking to vaping and beyond opens doors to others on the same path. Support among vapers is strong with the community made up largely of older, long term smokers working toward or being smoke free. This support contributes to the success of vaping as a potential gateway from smoking, not the other way around.

Consumers have driven the industry almost since the beginning. Over the past decade consumer awareness to dangers in poor quality production has led to selfregulating standards designed to deliver a much safer product in a much safer manner than just 10 years ago. It is rapidly changing and the vaping community helps keep everyone up to date on improvements and warnings.

Government needs are minimal

This is one emerging industry that offers strong potential health benefits while requiring minimal time and investment from local, state, or federal government. Consumers have insisted, and manufacturers are answering with solid approaches in production and delivery. Government assisted oversight can be lightly applied allowing adults to continue to support one another toward a smoke free life.

Vaping community members are active and productive members of our communities.
